BEING BANKER

THE WORLD OF INVESTMENT BANKING

Being Banker – The World of Investment Banking was a one-day seminar organised by IQAC & FINOVA at St. Xavier's College (Autonomous), Ranchi, featuring Mr. Vishal Bhojani as the speaker. The seminar focused on introducing students to the world of investment banking and providing them with exposure to the banking sector.

Key Focus Areas:

- i) Understanding investment banking
- ii) Introduction to Indian and foreign investment banks
- iii) Learning about the banking industry
- iv) Exploring the professional world of banking
- v) Understanding opportunities related to the finance sector

GENESIS OF THE IDEA

The initiative was conceived to provide students with a practical understanding of the banking and investment banking sector beyond their regular classroom learning. The seminar aimed to introduce students to the world of investment banking and help them understand the role and importance of Indian and foreign investment banks in the financial ecosystem. Through a session led by Mr. Vishal Bhojani, an investment banker, students were introduced to the professional banking environment and gained insights into the functioning and opportunities within the sector. The interaction provided students with a broader perspective of the finance industry while encouraging them to explore banking, finance and investment-related career paths. Overall, the initiative sought to create an informative and engaging platform for students to gain industry-oriented insights and develop a better understanding of the banking sector.

CONCLUSION

The “Being Banker – The World of Investment Banking” seminar provided students with valuable insights into the banking and investment banking industry. The session with Mr. Vishal Bhojani helped students gain a broader perspective of the finance sector, its professional landscape and the opportunities available within it.

Key Outcomes

- i) Better understanding of investment banking and the banking industry.
- ii) Awareness of Indian and foreign investment banks.
- iii) Practical exposure to the professional finance sector.
- iv) Increased awareness of banking and finance career opportunities.
- v) Connection between theoretical knowledge and industry perspectives.
- vi) Encouragement to explore the finance sector with greater confidence.

Vision

The vision of the initiative is to empower students with practical knowledge, industry awareness and professional exposure, enabling them to understand the evolving world of banking and finance and prepare themselves for future opportunities in the sector.
